

Feedback from Introduction to Ethics Talks at Radley College (June 2018)

Organiser of Talks:

I was delighted with the clear, patient and enthusiastic manner of your delivery. You didn't dumb things down, but were able to discuss difficult concepts with sensitivity to the understanding of the audience of sixth-formers and never tried to rush things through or skip over questions. Two excellent sessions - thank you. I very much look forward to having you back next year and enjoying more of your formidably authoritative knowledge of philosophy.

Two Attendees:

- 1) I thought the way he led us through the stages of ideas and his enthusiasm were both very good. I don't have any criticism.
- 2) Never felt on the back foot, and was comfortable making a contribution to the discussion, which was answered genuinely but not disparagingly.
